want to wish them well
and good luck with the next step in your journey!
We will miss you!

*Spelling City is a great resource and learning tool for your super learner! Plus, they love to play the games! Double bonus!

*A great math game resource is www.coolmathgames.com. Super fun games and math knowledge
for the kids!

The weather is cooling down, then warming up, then cooling down...and the temperature in our classroom can be just as hard to control as the weather, so please feel free to send a non-hooded sweatshirt to leave in the classroom.

Social/Emotional Corner

*Ms. Robinson, our psychologist, is covering expected and unexpected behaviors with our class. We continue to struggle with this almost daily. Do your part in asking if behaviors at home are expected or unexpected!

*Ms. Robinson is also working on appropriate behaviors to have during group lessons. This is to prepare them for general education class settings.

*Miss Westjohn, our speech pathologist, is introducing our class to Superflex and his comrades. Superflex is a superhero that lives in each of us and helps us learn to be more flexible thinkers and defeat the Unthinkables (the villains) that may invade our brain!

*We have a lot of issues with talking out, e.g. speaking over staff, blurting out answers during instruction, talking excessively while doing silent work, etc. We are trying to lessen this every day so they can become more and more prepared for the general education setting!

*There are some great kids in the class making great strides up the level system and we proud of them all!

Reminders:

Please read and sign Daily Communication sheet each night. Please respond to any questions as this is where non-emergencies and a lot of other things will be communicated. Remind will be used if anything is forgotten on the sheet or needs to be answered during the day!
